

Danish Standardisation Demands

The Danish government holds the cultivators of cannabis for medicinal use to very high standards.

This means that the standard of the Danish cannabis will be among the highest in the world.

All cultivators must be approved by the state and are held to:

- Good Manufacturing Practices (GMP)
- Good Agricultural And Collection Practice For Starting Materials Of Herbal Origin (GACP)
- Good Distribution Practice (GDP)
- Good Handling Practices (GHP)

Over 20 licenses have been given to develop and it has recently become possible to export end products and bulk from Denmark.

This will help the Danish industry and their partners become more robust and enable them to make even better products in the future.
